

Some of our products have a breakaway child safety device on the chain. This is designed to come apart when too much pressure is applied. You can simply reconnect the chain should this happen. When lowering or raising a blind with a breakaway, ensure you pull the chain from above the breakaway.

